THE LAST STATES.

Arizona and New Mexico Will Complete Uncle Sam's Family.

Since the thirteen colonies became the nation in 1783 thirty-five states have been added to the Union. The United States have multiplied at the handsome rate of one state for every three and a half years of national existence. Decidedly there is a shock in the suggestion that we now have come to the end of our tether, for the end, If end it prove, closes an epoch.

Congress has passed the act enabling Arizona and New Mexico to form state governments and become equal shareholders in the Union. Thus the last of the contiguous territories are hidden into the great American fed-

Many questions arise: Shall we forever remain a close, compact brotherhood of forty-eight mutually dependent and respectively independent states? There is no such design, yet further changes are evidently far off in time. Doubtless one or more states will be founded in Alaska. Some say the Japs, Chinese and spineless natives of Hawali even now aspire to be voters of a mid-Pacific state. Our brown charges in the Philippines are experimenting, under surveillance, with a toylike gift of self government. Porto Rico, really ambitious for statehood, already has a territorial government granted by congress and boasts a voteless delegate in the house of representatives in Washington.

AVOID LICENSE FEES

By Buying Up Lands on Which "Christmas Trees" Grow,

Rutland, Dec. 19 .- The records of the town of Mount Holly, which is at the senter of the Christmas tree traffic in The Scriptural expression "bowels of Vermont, indicate that wholesale dealers, who live outside of the state, have found eries of modern science. Whenever a way to avoid the payment of the state license fee, which under a law passed in 1910 is 25 cents for every little evergreen that is cut. The dealers contend that this fee is exorbitant and that the business could not be carried on with profit

HELD FOR COUNTY COURT.

Clifford Conroy Charged with Stealing $150 in Rutland.

Rutland, Dec. 19 .- Clifford Sonroy, who was arrested at Burlington about a week ago on complaint of Rutland officers. charging him with stealing $150 from Edward Kelly in this city on December 8, was tried in Rutland city court yesterday morning on the charge of rob-bery. He pleaded not guilty and after Grand Juror C. B. Costello had examined about 10 witnesses Judge F. G. Swinnerton decided to hold the respondent for county court. Conroy was represented by Attorney C. V. Poulin. No evidence was introduced in defense. Bail was fixed at $1,000 and Conroy went to jail in default of surety.

The allegation is that Conroy robbed Mr. Kelly while the latter was asleep at Conroy's room on West street. The vic-tim of the alleged theft testified that he received the money December 6 from a Hampton, N. Y., woman, to whom he sold a monument.

BURLINGTON MILLS RESUME.

Chace Cotton Mills Have Been Idle for Eight Months.

Burlington, Dec. 19.-The Chace cotton mills on Pine street and Barrett street, near Winooski, started up yesterday after having been shut down for eight months. It will yet be two weeks before the mills will be running again in full, all the new machinery which is being installed will not be in place until However, about 50 operatives obeyed the gladsome bell yesterday morning and others will be added as fast as possible. Alterations and repairs have been made to the mill property during the summer and the old looms are being replaced by modern ones. A hundred and sixty looms were started up at the Pine street plant.
